War Dead Coming Home

THREE EAST JORDAN WORLD WAR II CASULTIES BEING BROUGHT HOME

Three East Jordan servicemen who died in Italy in World War II arrived in the United States Wednesday aboard the army transport Carroll Victory. The war dead returned were interred in the Paetum-Mt. Soprano temporary military cemetery in Italy, but have been returned to this country for final interment at the request of their parents.

Private Peter Boyer, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Boyer R. F. D. 1.

Private William A. Clark son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Clark R. F. D. 1.

Private First Class Charles E. Kotalik, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. P. Kotalik R. F. D. 1.

Will arrive within five weeks accompanied by a uniformed Army escort from the Chicago Distribution Center of the American Graves Registration Division.

No information as to delivery dates will be given out earlier than seven days prior to the actual delivery. In most cases a telegram will be sent to the funeral director giving the hour and the day of arival.

Chain-of-Lakes Marathon For Outboard Motors and Boats at Bellairs, July 25th

$1000 in cash prizes is the bait that will draw most entrants in the Chain-of-Lakes Marathon for stock outboard motors and boats at Bellaire, Sunday, July 25, but the racers will be in for some thrills win or lose.

The toughest hurdles will be the rivers which join the lakes. Grass River between Lake Bellaire and Clam Lake will require care and skill to navigate safely. It winds and twists through a wild marshy area.

"Both Grass and Torch rivers will be adequately marked, Scotty Bedell, vice-commodore for the races, assures entrants, "but racers will have to remember that they are in a marathon and that the principle concern will be to get through the rivers safely. There's plenty of room and time to pass other boats in the lakes."

Check stops where racers will be required to dock, refuel and register have been established as follows: Redfern Marine Co. at Clam River; YMCA Camp midway on the west shore of Torch Lake; the public dock at Eastport, and the public dock at Alden. The racers will also be required to pass around a buoy at Torch Lake Village on the east shore of Torch Lake.

The race is sponsored by the Antrim County Board of Supervisors, with Scott Morrison, of Elk Rapids, as commodore. Those who wish to enter may obtain entry blanks and rules from Bob Paul, secretary, at Rapid City.

Laura M. Wood

Laura Madeline Wood, who was visiting at the home of her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Taft, the past three months, passed away July 9. She was born in Marseilles, Ill., May 25, 1874. The remains were taken to Gobles, Mich., where services were held Monday, July 12, at th Andre Funeral Home.

Interment in Lakeview Cemetery, South Haven. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Taft atended the funeral.

"Arsenic and Old Lace" Starts Out Batty; Ends In Fine Shape

The culprit responsible for the delay of the curtain at Center Stage's opening performance of "Arsenic & Old Lace" last Thursday evening was none other than an uninvited quest commonly known as a bat. Mr. Bat took advantage of an open door on a warm summer's night.

While the audience sat patiently waiting for the curtains to rise, the entire cast plus Stage Manager Ann Putman Dean, Properties Manager David Young and Directors Lief and Loren frantically pursued the bat backstage. Male members of the cast clamped hands over female mouths to stop screeches—while they flailed with one arm as the bat swooped, dipped and played tag. Only Cyvia Gilbert. "Aunt Abby" in the play was helpless to assist. Her squeaky shoes would not permit the chase.

"The setting and plot for Arsenic and Old Lace is in keeping for the presence of bats", said Young. "However, we felt this would be carrying authencitcity too far!" The chase persisted until the bat was finally eliminated from the stage. He then swooped and dipped his way down the corridor, calmly took a turn to the right and made his exit out the main entrance of the summer theatre.

The Hasty Heart Being Presented By Center Stage This Week

"SCENES" FROM CENTER STAGE

Center Stage '48, the New York theatre group who have chosen East Jordan as the site of their new summer theatre, are now broadcasting every Sunday evening at 8:00 p. m. over Petoskey radio station WMBM. They give previews on the play of the week at that time, and from all reports the radio audience is well pleased with their program.

Heard last Sunday evening were scenes from this week's play "The Hasty Heart" which will be presented July 15, 16, 17, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings at 8:30 with a Saturday matinee at 2:30. The Broadway play is a comedy-drama and the one that brought John Lund and Richard Bashart their Hollywood contracts. It is a heart-warming comment on human relationships.

Set Designer Jean Thomas and her assistant for this play, Tone Holley, have ben busily engaged in transforming the stage to a basha hut—located somewhere in the Southeast Asia Command. Michigan bark has been used throughout the set for trimming, but under the able hands of the set designer one would barely recognize it. Like previous productions of Center Stage this one will no doubt be a "hit"!

Mortimer Roe

Word has been received by Mrs. Anna Keat teling of the death of her brother, Mortimer Roe, of Calgary, Alberta, Canada, on May 30, 1948. He was born in South Arm Township June 26, 1880, and went to the North West Canada in 1904.

He is survived by three sons and one daughter and his sister, Mrs. Anna Keat.

Peters Reunion

One of the largest gatherings in this vicinity over the week end of the Fourth was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Peters on July 4th with 64 being present. Besides being a homecoming for all, it was the birthday of Mrs. Leah Peters. Her children were all home together for the first time in several years to help her celebrate the event. A pot luck dinner was served on tables set on the front lawn.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Tolfree of Drayton Plains; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Weiler and family of Pontiac; Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Reid and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Reynolds of Muskegon; Mr. and Mrs. William Henderson and family of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. George Persons and family of Muskegon Hts; Mr. and Mrs. Jet Peters of Walloon Lake; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Beyers of Hortorn Bay; Gerry Koilt of Flint; Mrs. Leah Peters, Mrs. Myrtie Looze, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Czykoski and family, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Crawford and family, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Peters and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Persons and son, Sam. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Chanda and family and Mary Umlor of East Jordan.

Frederick John Burdt Dies at Detroit In His 80th Year

Frederick John Burdt was born Nov.4, 1868, in Pomen, Germany, and passed away July 2, 1948 at the home of his son Fred in Detroit.

At the age of 17 Mr. Burdt came to America with his parents and settled in Chicago where he met and later married Freda Sophia Luth on June 10, 1896. In 1900 they moved to their farm in Wilson township where they lived 42 years, then failing health forced them to leave the farm and the past six years have made their home with their children.

Two children preceded him in death. Surviving are his widow. Three sons, Rudolf and Henry of Flint, and Fred of Detroit; one daughter, Mrs. Ralph Collins of Wayne; 15 grandchildren and four great grandchildren. Funeral services were held from the Armstrong Funeral Home, conducted by Rev. Mueller of Mt. Olive Lutheran church. Burial was at Glen Eden Lutheran Memorial Park, Detroit.

Bearers were six grandsons Rudy Burdt Jr., William Burdt, Wayne Burdt, Merrit DaVanzo, Earl VanValkenburg, and George Hummel.

Mr. and Mrs. Burdt celebrated their 54th wedding anniversary one month ago.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear father, son and brother, Pvt. William A. Clark, who made the supreme sacrifice near Gela, Sicily five years ago, July 13, 1943.

He gave his life, that we may live
His motto was not 'take' but give
Deep in our hearts he'll always be
Our boy who died for liberty.

To The People of This Vicinity

Many residents of East Jordan and the surrounding area have been somewhat overlooking an unusual privilege in having an opportunity to see legitimate stage productions of a calibre ranking with those of the best theatres in our large eastern cities.

The young men and women who have come here from New York this summer to establish a permanent summer theatre are seasoned professional actors and actresses, who are working hard, day and night, to present finished performances.

The ultimate aim of the Center Stage group is the establishment of a permanent summer theatre that will also include a school for all phases of dramatic art, which would virtually become the same thing in dramatics that Interlochen is in music.

Center State is composed of a splendid group who have won the admiration of all whom they have come in contact. We believe they are a definite asset to East Jordan and this area.

Thus far, their audiences have been largely made up of summer residents of the resort area extending from Traverse City to the Straits, with a somewhat smaller percentage of local people. Several business men have stated that they have already noticed the increase in traffic on the nights in which performances are being given. Center State is appreciative of the support given them by our people in loaning equipment and stage properties.

East Jordan is being offered an opportunity to attract many people in the future. Realizing what this will mean to our city, the undersigned people and organizations urge our citizens to give to this talented company the active support they richly merit and attend as many performances as possible.

Lucerne—"For quiet restful weekend, away from the state capital, what we need is a place of our own up in the North Country," I said, pulling out a state highway map.

The Missus took a look.

"See this patch of green," I pointed to the point. "It stretches from Kalkaska to Harrisville. It blankets the AuSable State Forest to the west and the Huron National Forest to the east. Here the North begins.

"Right in the center of this green, east to west, is the town of Lucerne, and just to the north is the AuSable river, famous for trout. Pines and hardwood. Lots of fresh air. No dust. No automobile traffic. Solitude day and night. Yes, that's the spot for us."

And so we signed a land lease with the Consumers Power Company which owns much of the river land west from its Mio hydro-electric plant. That was four years ago.

Our war-time cabin fund had financed purchase in 1947 of a mobile cabin-on-wheels, a snug 19-foot house trailer. Since we spent occasional week ends there, it had seemed a shame to fence in the 40 acres and to put up signs.

From the high bank is a commanding view of a scenic river bend. Three springs provide cold water in great abundance.

Verily, a dream place for a quiet week end.

We arrived late Friday in great anticipation.

Thirty minutes later an automobile from Pontiac pulled up to a birch grove west of the high banks. A tent soon appeared, and with it two men, a woman, a boy and a dog.

"I've been camping at this spot for years," enthused one of the men. "Beautiful view, ain't it?"

Four more kinred souls seeking peace in the North Country, I surmised. So I invited them to stay.

Saturday morning, after I finished up cleaning up the rubbish left by deer hunters the winter before, two fly fishermen appeared in an ancient car. Where glass windows had once been, fly rods stuck out. Parking the car carelessly at an angle, the men descended the bank carrying a basket filled with bottled beer and there camped for the day.

By twilight the parade of automobiles, bringing more fishermen and sight-seers had worn a deep rut in the road by the trailer. The missus closed the trailer windows. "Too much dust," she said.

I'm not sure I heard her. The campers' dog was howling for food. And someone had left a car radio going full blast.

Then the fishermen with "rubber Doughnuts" appeared. Laden down with creel and equipment, they decended the bank to the AuSabl amid farewells of their families. Straddled inside the "doughnuts" they would float down to the Red Oak bridge, two miles downstream. Our guests explained they "always" pushed off from this spot.

Other tourists arrived with canoes or boats.

"Where can I put this boat in the river?" was the usual query.

Like a traffic cop presiding over a busy street, I volunteered detailed instructions to each guest. "Drive down the trail to the first bend. Park your car there. Carry the canoe down the footpath to the river's edge. A swell place."

Across the river, down at the bend, two men were putting up a cabin. They had engaged the Indian Trail lodge on Kellogg road to furnish lumber. The easiest way to deliver it was by boat, ferrying the supplies across the stream from our camp, and all with automobile horn signals and put-putting of an outboard motor.

Our Sunday guests included a fellow who took possession of a deep trout hole near the springs' outlet. Well, by actual count, more than 60 persons—men, women, children and pets—swarmed over our leased land in one week end. Fly rods to the left. Canoes to the right.

It suddenly dawned on us that a lot of other folks had traveled to the spacious North Country, too, in quest of solitude and relaxation. It also dawned on us that we were vastly outnumbered— a good 30 to 1— as to enjoyment of this popular AuSable camping and fishing spot. The place fairly shouted: "Don't fence me in!"

Well, we don't intend to.

Who are we to dispossess so many people of their pleasure?

Anywho, We're to tired!

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of our loving son, brother and cousin, Harold Bates, Jr., who pased away four years ago July 14, 1944.

What would we give to hear his voice
His happy face to see
To clasp his hand and see his smile
Would mean so much to see.
He little tho't when leaving here
That he would ne'er return
That he so soon in death would sleep
And leave us here to mourn.

Hospital Needs Radio For Vets

To the Editor: I know that of the many peope who read your paper a lot would respond generously to the following. It is from the Arenac County Independent, a weekly publication:

"State T. B. sanatorium at Gaylord holds plenty of World War II vets. . . who sacrificed their lungs to win our war. It's a dull, heartbreaking routine. . . fighting their way back to the home front they saved. Time would go faster for them and for the other patients if they had a modern bedside radio system. . . instead of the obsolete, worn-out, 11-year-old setup in use now. A new system would cost $6,000. . . and if a small percentage of the folks who read these lines would mail one thin dime apiece. . . to Governor F. Morrow, Northern Michigan T B. Sanatorium, Gaylord, Mich. . . that would do the job."

Speed Kills; Take It Easy

MICHIGAN STATE POLICE ISSUES JULY WARNING

"Speed kills—take it easy!"

This is the traffic safety theme to be stressed during the month of July by police agencies of Michigan, according to Sergeant Edgar Welsch, commanding officer of the Gaylord post of the Michigan State Police. The campaign is part of a year-round traffic education program sponsored by the National Safety Council under the title of "Operation Safety."

"Modern, smooth running cars give a delusion of safety when running at high speeds," Sergeant Edgar Welsch said. "No car, however, is safer than its driver, and the records show that speed is a factor in accidents more often than any other violation. Speed is likewise a contributing cause in two out of every five traffic deaths."

Contrary to general belief, Michigan does have a speed law that applies to the open highway, Sergeant Edgar Welsch pointed out.

"Unless a zone is posted with signs, the law does not designate any specific speed limit outside of business and residential districts," the officer said. "But it does provide that driving too fast for conditions is a violation. By conditions is meant such considerations as the weather, volume and rate of flow of traffic, condition of highway, and whether it is day or night.

"Under certain circumstances, you can speed at five to ten miles an hour as well as at 5 or 60. And when you're goinb 60 and hit a solid obstruction it is just like driving off a 10-story bulding."

Although the accident record is not increasing proportionately with the increase in traffic, nevertheless it is a new peak and growing, the officer stated. Last year 1,444 persons were killed and 39,639 injured in 137,619 traffic accidents in Michigan.

"There just aren't enough policemen to control the situation," Sgt. Edgar Welsch said. "If we are to reduce accidents, drivers must police themselves by being conscientious in the operation of their cars. They must also be alert for the unexpected, especially carelessness or recklessness on the part of the other driver. And remember, you can't dipute the record, speed kills. So take it easy, what's the hurry?"

SIX WOMEN TO ATTEND FARM WOMEN'S WEEK AT M.S.C.

Six homemakers from Antrim County will attend Farm Women's Week at Michigan State College, July 19-23, reports Virginia Vance, Home Demonstration Agent.

Those attending include: Mrs. Anna M. Bedell, Mrs. Maud L. Evans, Mrs. Florence Lewis, Mrs. Duane Johnson, Mrs. J. Powers, Mrs. William Ballard.

They will join about 1,000 farm women for a week of college life including recreational, educational and inspirational activities. Facilities of the college will be placed at their disposal and they will live and eat in college dormitories.

Outstanding speakers from all the nation will address various sessions during the week. Michigan State College faculty are offering 21 different classes so that the women may study the subject of their choice for a week.

PLAN POULTRY SCHOOLS AT MSC

A flock selection and blood testing school has been announced at Michigan State College to provide training in these two poultry sciences.

The basic school is scheduled for July 26-30 and the advanced school July 22 and 23.

Michigan Stats college staff members will make up the faculty of the school and will present lectures and demonistrations. Among subjects to be stressed are diseases, breeding, and poultry problem.

Program and instructions can be secured by writing to the Poultry Department, Michigan State College, East Lansing, Michigan.

ADJUST EQUIPMENT FOR BEST SPRAYING

Equipment in first class condition is just as necessary for insect control as the insecticide reports Ray L. Janes, extension entomolgist at Michigan State college.

Good coverage is highly important and requires enough nozzles and correct pressure, he advises. Nozzles should be adjusted to meet the spraying and dusting rquirements of each crop treated. Needs vary with the crop and should be considered each time a different crop is to be treated. Janes emphasizes that nozzles of dusters and sprayers can be too close or too far away from crops. He suggests that dusts and sprays hit plants when they start to fan out.

Canvas trailers should be used with dusts when possible, providing they do not damage the crop mechanically or scatter diseases.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

GOP Convention Hands Nomination To Dewey in Display of Unanimity; Warren Second Choice on Ticket

By Bill Schoentgen, WNU Staff Writer

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

GOVERNOR DEWEY AND FAMILY
...They want a new, white house...

DEWEY EYED

GOP Convention

Out of the smoke-blurred rooms during the recess before the third roll call came the word: It was Dewey—first again with the medicine men.

From the very beginning of the GOP convention in the sweltering confines of Philadelphia's convention hall it was a simple case of Dewey against the field. The field was composed of Taft, Stassen, Vandenberg, Warren and MacArthur, plus a scattering of favorite sons.

Despite some frenetic jockeying for delegates by Dewey, Taft and Stassen over the week-end preceding the convention, the big three of the GOP started out on Monday with their pre-convention alignments unchanged.

But by the time Gov. Dwight Green of Illinois had finished with his keynote address Monday night it was apparent that a stop-Dewey movement was struggling to get under way. As it turned out that movement never did get beyond the struggling stage and Dewey remained virtually the only one unaffected by it.

In retrospect, the convention by that time already had assumed an inexorable course toward the Dewey camp. Second-guessers maintained that the whole affair oozed along as if motivated by some fundamental and changeless law, although that was not fully evident until the convention could be viewed as a finished product.

If there was a fundamental law it was compounded from a series of heterogeneous factors, political and personal:

First of all there was the superbly functioning Dewey machine, operating with almost 100 per cent efficiency to corral votes.

Secondly, the Dewey opposition was divided. Taft and Stassen, poles apart in their political philosophy within the Republican party, could not get together. Stassen flatly refused a deal and Taft kept waiting for a break that never came. California's Gov. Earl Warren refused to have a hand in a stop-Dewey drive, insisted he was running for the nomination and not just against Dewey. Vandenberg added to the confusion by remaining silent, noncommittal and even disinterested.

Nomination

Actual climax of the convention came when Sen. Edward Martin of Pennsylvania renounced his favorite son candidacy and threw his support, backed by about half the members of Pennsylvania's 73 delegates, to Dewey. That started the blitzkrieg. From then on it was Dewey and downhill all the way.

As the crucial balloting began in humid, steaming convention hall it became more evident that a stop-Dewey coalition had not jelled.

On the first roll call it was Dewey 434, Taft 224, Stassen 166. On the second ballot Dewey had gone up to 515 and Taft to 274, while Stassen dropped to 149.

At that point the convention recessed for three hours, a move engineered by Taft, Stassen and other anti-Dewey leaders to give them time to decide whether or not to continue the fight.

When the convention reconvened for the third roll call the stop-Dewey drive had changed to a nominate-Dewey stampede. Sen. John Bricker of Ohio was the first on the rostrum to withdraw the name of his state's candidate, Senator Taft. This was swiftly followed by similar withdrawals by Warren, Stassen, Vandenberg and MacArthur.

GOVERNOR WARREN
...He accepted...

On the third ballot the 1,094 delegates to the convention nominated Gov. Thomas E. Dewey as their unanimous choice to run as the Republican candidate for President in 1948.

Warren

Selection of Gov. Earl Warren of California as the Republican nominee for vice-president came as a complete shock to almost everyone, despite the fact that the choice was a logical and reasonable one.

Warren was a surprise pick because prior to the convention he had maintained stoutly that he could not afford to take the vice-presidency and would not accept the second spot.

It was even more a departure from the norm in that the Dewey-Warren ticket failed to offer a grain of consolation to the old guard and isolationist wing of the party. Warren has strongly internationalist political views — even more so than Dewey—and has been a consistent critic of the GOP isolationists.

Initial speculation as to the vice-president spot ran to Rep. Charles Halleck of Indiana or Sen. Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska, both of the "conservative Republican" tradition.

But in the night-long pow-wow that followed the Dewey nomination it was Warren who was chosen. Dewey himself averred that he had not influenced the choice, that the party leaders had become convinced that the California governor was the best bet.

Nevertheless, Dewey had had to make certain promises in order to get Warren for the job: The vice-presidency, he said, no longer would be the stale, flat and unprofitable post it has been. He planned to make Warren a "full partner."

Significance

Whether the GOP convention constructed its policy platform to fit the candidates or nominated the candidates to fit the platform is, of course, an impossible question. Nevertheless, the Republicans managed to do both.

Categorically, the platform is a sound, forward-looking one in the light of the issues, both foreign and domestic, to be faced.

Strongly internationalist and bipartisan in tone, it rejects the old line of isolationism for isolationism's sake and upholds the European recovery program.

That foreign policy stand, harmonizing as it does with the previously stated convictions of Dewey and Warren, may stand as a historic milestone in development of the Republican party.

NOMINEE

Dewey Runs on Calculated Ambition

Thomas Edmund Dewey is a success story in himself, featuring the kind of success that is achieved not happenstance but through precisely calculated ambition spearheaded by precisely directed energy.

At 46 he has been elected governor of New York twice and defeated once for the same office. Moreover, he has received the Republican presidential nomination twice in succession.

It is the only instance in the history of the Republican party where a defeated presidential candidate was nominated to run again.

Born in Owosso, Mich., Dewey achieved prominence in New York City as a racket-busting district attorney.

CRACKDOWN: Marshal Tito

Russia's iron curtain had twitched apart along its Yugoslavian seam to provide a glimpse of the Communist stage set with the rickety scenery of dissension, fear and insecurity.

Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia was the central figure, but remained so for only a brief instant before his Soviet bosses whisked him off the boards.

Plain fact was that Tito, hitherto the fair-haired boy of eastern European communism, had been all but purged from the Communist party because he was trying to make a play for western capitalism.

Actually he, together with his henchmen in the Yugoslav government, was ousted from the all-important Cominform (Communist information bureau) which was established last year to provide greater unity for the Soviet satellite states of eastern Europe.

Tito and his regime were charged with virtually everything the Soviet politburo considers a crime—ranging from Trotskyism and anti-Sovietism to "ineptness" and "false demagogic tactics."

Behind this official facade which the Communists had thrown up, however, were the real reasons for Tito's expulsion from grace:

As the only wartime hero of the Communists the Yugoslav marshal had begun to take himself too seriously, hence, was beginning to feel the need to express his own opinions and policies on matters political and economic. Stalin wanted no other boss in his sphere.

Tito was building up a "personal police" army which was molesting other Communists, including Russians, in Belgrade. Also, he had followed an independent foreign policy without Moscow's approval.

Finally he committed the cardinal sin of currying favor with western capitalist diplomats with an eye to obtaining reconstruction credits for Yugoslavia.

SERVICE: Drafting

That draft which men in the 19-through-25 age group are beginning to feel is the result of the U. S. armed forces drawing in their breath and preparing to expand all over the place.

Between next fall and next summer the services plan on calling about 30,000 draft-age young men every month. Drafting is scheduled to start about September 22.

With a strength of 837,000 authorized by congress in the selective service bill, the army has estimated that it will need between 225,000 and 250,000 selectees to approach its authorized strength. That number is in addition to the 250,000 or 300,000 volunteers it so fervently hopes it will get.

In discussing plans for this second peacetime draft in U. S. history, Army Secretary Kenneth Royall explained that the army now has 542,000 men but it won't jump to the 837,000 figure immediately because funds for the fiscal year which began July 1 are not sufficient.

Thus, by July 1, 1949, the size of the army will be an estimated 700,000. The peacetime draft is a relatively slow-functioning process. Certainly it can't compare with the wartime levying of manpower. Peak of the induction rate during the war was reached in February, 1943, when 406,374 men received their greetings.

When the army attains its full 837,000 strength it will consist of 12 regular army divisions. Backstopping these will be six national guard divisions, together with other supporting elements such as anti-aircraft artillery and service troops.

BLOCKADE: Berlin

Russia's freight blockade of Berlin, while a stark enough action in its own right, nevertheless was a secondary manifestation of the same old cold war crisis arising out of the Soviet bid for power in Europe.

While American and British planes by the hundreds were flying in food to besieged Berliners the western powers were pondering a question they had had to answer in 1938 when Hitler was in power—whether or not to appease.

Long range plans of the Kremlin, of which the Berlin blockade is just one phase, call for the forcing of the western Allies out of Berlin. This, according to Soviet thinking, could be done by either of two means: Either by threats and terrorization involving the risk of war, or by a four-power negotiation which could be hoped to result in a western appeasement policy such as grew out of the ill-starred Munich conference of 1938.

Britain and the U.S. are on a dangerous spot. If they pulled out of Berlin under pressure of force applied by Russia the power and influence of western democracy would be perilously weakened in Europe.

Emotional Asthma

Asthma, with its painful choking and wheezing, often may be the result of an emotional disturbance rather than being brought on by purely physical factors.

Dr. F. B. Schutzbank of Tuscon, Ariz., told the American Medical association meeting in Chicago that many of the asthmatic victims who flee to Arizona for relief could save the trip simply by curbing their family quarrels and other disturbances.

LOOKING BACKWARD

From the Herald Files of Forty, Thirty and Twenty Years Ago

Compiled by Mrs. Ida Kinsey

JULY 4, 1908

Miss Anna Burney is home from Big Rapids where she has been the past few months.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Mackey a son, Monday.

Com'r and Mrs. J. H. Milford, Mrs. Keenholts and daughter Grace, were guests of Charlevoix friends Sunday.

The Cemetery Improvement Ass'n meet with Mrs. Charles Crowell next Thursday afternoon.

The Summer Time Schedule of the Str. Hum went into effect Sunday and runs in connection with the Pere Marquett R. R. The Hum leaves East Jordan at 7:00 a. m., 11:00 a. m. and 3:30 p. m. Leaves Charlevoix at 9:00 a. m. and 1:30 and 6:30 p. m.

The work of raising the sunken steamer Irma Wheeler in Pine Lake, off Ironton, is progressing rapidly. She has been sunk for nearly two years.

George A. Bell, a well known business man of Olivet, was here ten days ago looking over our town and has decided that East Jordan is the place to make his future home. He is now on his way here with his family.

Soronia Hive No. 452, L. O. T. M., in which Mrs. Wm. Stroebel carried a life insurance, this week received payment in full for the policy.

Wm. V. Harrington, 27, passed away suddenly at Aberdeen, Wash., last Saturday. The word came as a shock to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Harrington, Sr. The body was accompanied home by his brother, Blaine. He went west two years ago and ran a sawmill at Aberdeen.

Floyd VanSteenburg and Clara Hudson were married at residence of Mr. and Mrs. Duane VanSteenburg. (The present John Seiler home.)

Mrs. Wm. Howard, who has been dangerously ill the past fortnight is now somewhat improved.

East Jordan's summer resorters are commencing to arrive. A party from Grand Rapids are occupying the Whittington cottage.

In spite of the so-called "election-year-hard-times" East Jordan's realty is constantly improving and changing hands. This week Bert Wilhelm, sold his business block on upper Main street to Roscoe Mackey, the consideration being $3,000. Miss Genevieve Senecal will continue her Ladies Furnishings store as heretofore and the market store, closed the past fortnight, will soon be re-opened with a stock of meats and groceries. Mr. Wilhelm has faith in East Jordan's future and intends to re-invest his money within a week or so.

JULY 5, 1918

In an accident at the Furnace Co's dock Wednesday night, W. S. Blanshan was struck by an empty ore car which threw him onto the trestle and carried him thirty feet. He received a broken hip and internal injuries. Drs. Witter of Petoskey and Parks of this city operated on him Thursday evening.

The W. H. White company combination band and circular sawmill and plaining mill on the water front at Boyne City was completely destroyed by fire last Friday evening. The loss is figured at $150,000 and partially covered by insurance.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dye at Detroit, a daughter, July 2nd. Mrs. Dye was formerly Miss Esther Monroe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Monroe of this city.

Clarence Lorraine, who has been here with his grandmother, Mrs. C. L. Lorraine, for sometime, returned home to Big Rapids, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Stallard with children left Thursday for a visit with relatives at Barker Creek.

Miss Mina Hite is confined to her home, suffering from an abscess forming in one of her ears.

Miss Elsie Notham of Toledo, Ohio, is the new stenographer at the Northern Auto Co.

Mrs. Robert Menzee of Vanderbilt is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. LeRoy Sherman.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson are visiting relatives at Elk Rapids.

JULY 6, 1928

With plenty of attractions and good weather East Jordan's two days Homecoming and Fourth of July celebration was the best attended and most thoroughly enjoyed event since the Armistice celebration. Over three hundred former residents returned to East Jordan to help make the Homecoming the success that it was. A long list of the names of those who registered filled more than two columns. A big parade showed that much effort had been made by our citizens to provide worth while floats. The outstanding feature was that of the army tank, put on by Rebec-Sweet Post of the American Legion. The Calithumpians proved a great source of amusement, the E. J. Fire dept, with the old hose wagon, vieing with the "Spirit of East Jordan" by the Northern Auto Co. There was a long line-up of the parade. A magnificient display of fireworks, witnessed by several thousand spectators, closed one of the best Fourth of July celebrations ever held in Charlevoix County.

East Jordan had its first airways accident when a Michigan Airways plane, piloted by Elmer VanSickle, and with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Nowland of East Jordan as passengers, attempted a take-off from the field next to the Fair Grounds. The plane failed to raise properly and the pilot saw that the plane was about to crash a high tension electric wire In attempting to turn, one of the wings caught the ground and the plane's motor dug into the ground, leaving the plane upright with motor in the earth. Mrs. Nowland fainted and it was several hours before she recovered. The Pilot received a broken tooth and other minor face injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Kidder and little daughter, Hildred, of Detroit, spent Saturday evening with Mr. and Ms. Ray Gee.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kowalske a son, Lyle Vernon, and a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Wallace McPherson, Irene Florence.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred LaLonde with children left first of the week for Lansing, where they plan to make their future home.

Mrs. Thomas Passenger left this week to visit Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Fuller of Portland, Mich. From there she will go to Florida to enter the Moose Home.

JULY 11, 1908

Jas Blackburn, 56, section boss on the E. J. & S. R. R., Wednesday was the victim of an accident which cost him his life. The accident happened near Hitchcock. He died the same evening.

Marriage licenses for the past week included Leo LaLonde and Nancy Grenon both of East Jordan.

The Northport beach hotel burned early Monday morning entailing a loss of about $80,000 with no insurance. It will probably not be rebuilt as it had a hoodooed career ever since it was built.

Pretty, Catchy, Choruses, Neat Dancing, Special Scenery, Electrical Effects, Bright Bits of Comedy, making in all 145 minutes of rare entertainment never equalled on the musical stage, is the program for tonight at the Loveday Opera House.

J. L. Wiesma has been quite ill the past week and confined to his home.

The Common Council met Friday evening. Contract was made with B. E. Waterman to furnish steam for the temporary engine at the Water Works. Steps were taken toward issuing the Water Works bonds, recently voted upon.

Last week over three million feet of lumber were shipped from this port, and this week several boats are loading. Last week the steam barge Wyoming cleared with 1,070,000 ft. for Tonawanda; the Nippogen 750,000 ft, and Middlesex with 900,000 the latter two steam barges cleared for Ogsburg on the St. Lawrence. All three were loaded with white pine.

East Jordan bicycle users got a jolt this week when an ordinance passed a year ago and never enforced was resurrected and a few were caught riding on the walks, hailed into court and assesed $1.00 and costs.

JULY 12, 1918

Mrs. Malinda Sexton, residing at Orchard Heights, received the following telegram. Deeply regret to inform you that Private Henry Elmer Watkins, infantry officially reported as killed in action, June 8th.

Atty Dwight L. Wilson will be a candidate for Prosecuting Attorney of Charlevoix County on the Republican Ticket at the August 27th primaries.

First Sergeant Albert LaLonde, company 8th Signal Corps, Madison Barracks, New York and Miss Mary E. Orvis of Grand Rapids were married at St. Paul's Episcopal church, Watertown, N. Y. July 3.

Mrs. Della Laviolett of East Chicago, Ind., is visiting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Della LaPeer.

Henry Lafreniere and family left Tuesday for Frankfort where they will make their future home.

Miss A. Holmes of Chicago is guest of her sister Mrs. O. E. Sunstedt.

Elder J. H. McEachern of Lincoln, Neb., was guest of his sister, Mrs. Flora McColeman. He leaves New Orleans July 16th for South America as General Conference Missionary Secretary of the Seventh Day Adventist church.

Our Business Mens Club are assisting Rural Carrier, A. K. Hill in making arrangements. The meetings to be held in the High School Auditorium.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Gothro and children are here from Detroit for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Gothro.

A barn filled with hay belonging to Carson Bros. south of East Jordan was struck by lightning during the severe storm Sunday night and destroyed by fire. The loss around $1,200, partially covered by insurance.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy LaLonde of Lansing are here visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs Leo LaLonde.

Miss Gertrude Sidebotham is spending two weeks at Chippewa Trail Camp on Elk Lake.

The big Belgian stallion "Albanais", owned by Robert Pearall, dropped dead from heart failure last Thursday. The horse was valued at $2,500 and the live stock insurance was only about one third of this. Wm. Bauldy in charge of the horse, had just left Advance on his way home, when near the old Bird place the horse keeled over without warning, throwing its driver about twenty feet. It was an imported, registered stallion and took first prize at the Detroit State Fair last year.

Mrs. Oliver Ralph, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Light, died at her home in Grayling, July 8, and was brought here for burial. Anna was born in East Jordan August 17, 1885. She was married to Mr. Ralph Feb. 21, 1906.

Dr. G. A. Holliday of Traverse City was here this week, guest of his brother, J. G. Holliday.

East Jordan contractors won another round this week, when Clark and Rogers landed the contract for building the new Masonic Temple at Boyne City.

Ten Ways To Get The Most Out Of Your Vacation

Whether you go away or stay at home—get the vacation attitude of mind, relax, and enjoy yourself, your family and your friends.

If you are going away—choose the place that will give you the greatest change and pleasure.

If you are staying at home—vary your usual routine and do things in a vacation way.

Spend time out of doors and in the sunshine. Get a coat of tan, but gradually to avoid painful sunburn.

Suit your activities to your age and don't overdo.

Eat regularly and moderately and enjoy the summer's fresh vegetables and fruits.

Drink plenty of pasteurized milk, and drink water only from safe sources.

Sleep eight hours or longer; it does wonders for your capacity to enjoy yourself.

Better bathe at approved and guarded beaches. At least, don't swim alone or dive into strange waters.

Give prompt attention to even minor injuries, insect bites and ivy poisoning. Be careful, so that no accident will mar your restful, happy holiday.

What's In a Name?

HANS WAGNER, one-time great Pittsburgh infielder, tells of two rookies who once came up to the Pirates in the waning days of a season. The manager wanted to try them out at the plate, so he decided to give them a turn at bat one day when his team had a lead of several runs.

The first rookie approached the plate.

"What's your name and who are you batting for?" the umpire asked.

"My name's Riggs and I'm batting for myself," was the fast reply.

The umpire's face crimsoned, but he allowed the remark to pass. To add to his discomfort, the youngster singled on the first pitch.

When the second rookie—a small, shy boy—came up, the umpire was in no mood for another wisecrack.

"And what's your name and for whom are you batting?" he asked.

The newcomer hesitated, coughed, and blurted, "Boo!"

This was too much. Flinging his mask to the ground, shaking an angry finger before the rookie's face, the umpire yelled, "Out of the game."

But the youth was completely innocent. His name was Boo—Everett Boo.

RETURN FAVOR

"How did Frank lose the fingers of his right hand?"

"He put them in the horse's mouth to see how many teeth he had."

"And then what happened?"

"The horse closed his mouth to see how many fingers Frank had."

Slight Misunderstanding

"Now," the lecturer asked, "is there a man in the audience who would let his wife be slandered and say nothing? If so, stand up."

A meek little man rose to his feet.

The lecturer glared at him. "Do you mean to say you would let your wife be slandered and say nothing?" she cried.

"I'm sorry," the little man apologized. "I thought you said 'slaughtered'."

Outfoxing a Fox

A businessman came home one night looking very weary.

"You look tired, dear," said his wife sympathetically. "Have you had a very busy day at the office?"

"Well, not exactly; but you see, the office boy came in with the old story of going to his grandmother's funeral, so I decided to teach him a lesson and accompany him."

"Of course, you found it was a football match?"

"No such luck," he said with a rueful grin. "It was his grandmother's funeral!"

A RARE STEAK

Farmer: "You can't go wrong on this mare, sir. She's sound, gentle, a good worker and a fine saddle horse."

City Slicker: "What I want to know, is she tender?"

Speaker (who has lost his notes): "M-mmy f-f-friends. When I came here tonight only God and myself knew what I was to say to you—and now only God knows!

UNDERGROUND TELEPHONE CABLE from Big Rapids to Petoskey has been put in service after the mayors of those two cities and the mayors of Reed City, Cadillac, Traverse City, and Charlevoix made simultaneous long-distance calls. The $3,600,000 cable is the largest single installation in the history of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company. It was plowed underground by a specially-constructed "cable train" which is shown above as ia lumbers through deep mud near Ellsworth.

Safeguard Your Health

WHILE ON VACATION, DEPARTMENT of HEALTH MAKES SUGGESTIONS

A large share of the one million vacation casualties Michigan will suffer this summer could be prevented by a knowledge of hazards, by application of simple precautions and remedies, and by ordinary common sense, the Michigan Department of Health advised today.

Principal summer vacation hazards in Michigan exist in overexposure to the sun, overexertion, swimming, boating, poison ivy, insect bites, and in contaminated milk, water and food supplies. In addition, there are the year around hazards of traffic, falls and fire.

The vacationist who uses only pasteurized milk and milk products, drinks water only from approved supplies, stops only in approved cabins, camps or hotels, and eats only in approved reataurants has eliminated many of his vacation worries. Sanitary enginners from the health departments in the state have visited his vacation and eating sites before him to assure that they are safe for him and his family. A Michigan Department of Health sign saying that the camp, cabin, hotel or restaurant is approved is displayed wherever it is deserved. The vacationist should patronize the places which display these signs.

The necessity for using only pasteurized milk is indicated by the fact that undulant fever, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, septic sore throat and tuberculosis can be carried in milk. Unpasteurized butter, cream, cottage cheese, ice cream and other milk products can also carry the diseases.

Outbreaks of food poisoning are traced each year to picnic, camp or cottage meals. Food poisoning is caused by germs which reach food in any of a variety of ways. In warm weather the germs multiply so rapidly that food held even an hour without proper refrigeration may be dangerous. Heating held-over food is, as a rule, not sufficient to destroy the poison manufactured by the germs. Among foods most frequently involved are commercially-made or home-made salads, pre-cooked hams, cream filled pasteries, sandwich fillings, and warmed over foods such as hash.

The water supply at a farm or cottage may be contaminated by seepage from outdoor toilets or barnyards. Water pumped from creeks to sprinkle golf couses may contaminate the drinking water on the course. The vacationist should be sure that the water he drinks and the ice he uses in drinks are from safe sources.

TAN SLOWLY

A coat of tan is healthful, but it should be acquired gradually. It is best to take 15 minute sunning periods early in the morning or late in the afternoon. Sunburn is always uncomfortable, and it can cause illness or death. Over-exposure to the sun may cause sunstroke or heat prostration, especially in oldsters, people with high blood pressure or heart ailments, or chronic alcoholics. Ordinarily sunstroke or heat prostration can be prevented by wearing light, loose clothing and a hat, and by avoiding undue exposure or exertion.

TAKE IT EASY

"Let's take it easy, I'm on a vacation," is a good way to think. Overexertion in tennis, swimming, riding, golfing, rowing or paddling will cause sore muscles or blisters, either of which can ruin your vacation, and overdoing, even in play, can cause serious illness or death.

SWIM SAFELY

Swimming rules have been repeated often, but the more than 210 deaths by drowning last summer indicate that they should be given again. Learn to swim and don't show off. Don't swim alone, or after dark, or at an unguarded beach, or in swift water, or within two hours after a hearty meal. Don't dive into water of unknown depth or into extremely cold water. Don't swim until exhausted or when tired. Learn to rest floating on your back.

To guard Michigan vacationists from sewage polluted bathing beaches the Michigan Department of Health and the State Stream Control Commission cooperate in inspecting known danger spots and testing samples of water. When dangerous pollution is found, warning signs are posted. No one should swim in a river or creek, or near their outlets, or near sewer outlets.

The Stream Control Commission also conducts a campaign to eliminate snails which carry "swimmers' itch", a nuisance in some inland lakes. Commission employees spray some beaches in each of 16 counties of the state. The itch can be avoided by taking a shower and brisk rub down with a rough towel immediately after leaving the water. In areas where there is some "itch", it is unwise to let water dry on the skin. Most public beaches are closed to swimmers when the hazard appears.

USE BOATING CARE

Most boating accidents would be prevented if people remained seated aboard canoes, rowboats or small fishing or sail boats, made sure that the boat was not overloaded, and did not go out in high wind or when a storm threatened. Boats should be inspected regularly for leaks and defects. Motor and sail boats and canoes should be handled only by people experienced in their use.

PLAN NOW TO TAKE BEST ADVANTAGE OF FROZEN FOODS

We all want to take advantage of using frozen foods in planning our family food supplies for the next year. With fruits and vegetables coming on the market, now is a good time to make some definite plans for the quantities we will need and how we will store them.

Whether to buy a frozen food unit for the home or use the facitities of the local locker is a question we all have to decide. Some very practical help in making this decision is available at no cost to Michigan families from Michigan State College.

Their recent publication, "Planning for Frozen Foods', contains 38 pages of illustrated down-to-earth facts that everyone needs to know before buying or renting lockers. One glance at the carefully prepared charts in the bulletin will tell you the amounts of various foods that it is practical to freeze according to the size of your family. Varieties best for freezing and basic information for their preparation is included.

What you can expect from each of the types of home units and from the commercial locker plants is discussed in detail. Costs are compared and the question of location of lockers either in your home or community is discussed.

Michigan State College home economists say you will find help in this bulletin about the amount of frozen food space you need for your family. That would determine the size of unit you would want if buying a home unit seemed practical for your family situation.

To obtain a copy of "Planning for Frozen Foods," write or ask the County Agricultural Agent's Office, Court House, Bellaire.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

International Uniform Sunday School Lessons
By LOUIS H. HEATON, D.D.

SCRIPTURE: Ruth.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalms 23:6-9.

Naomi, Woman Of Faith

Lesson for July 18, 1948

IF WE are to understand Ruth, cherished heroine of the book bearing her name, we must know Naomi, her mother-in-law—woman of faith in God and surpassing patience and sacrifice in service to her day and generation.

Dr. Newton

It is the Book of Ruth which we have for Sunday's lessons, with Psalms 23:6-9 as the devotional reading. The golden text, "Thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God," Ruth 1:16.

* * *

IN SEARCH OF BREAD

FAMINE in Judah, where Elimelech and his wife, Naomi, and their sons, Mahlon and Chilion, dwelt, drove them to Moab, in search of bread. Elimelech died, and the sons married young women of Moab, Ruth and Orpah. And then the sons died. Naomi, feeling that she must not longer remain in Moab, announced her intention to return to her native land, and bade Ruth and Orpah farewell. In one brief decade Naomi had lost husband and sons, and now she longed for home.

* * *

"INTREAT ME NOT TO LEAVE THEE"

ORPAH accepted Naomi's suggestion, and turned away to her own people; but not so with Ruth. She loved Naomi. She could not give her up. Naomi had done something for Ruth in those years of sorrow and loss.

"Intreat me not to leave thee, or to return from following after thee; for whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest, I will lodge. Thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God. Where thou diest, I will die, and there will I be buried. The Lord do so to me, and more also, if aught but death part thee and me."

With these sublime words, Ruth lashed herself to Naomi, and together they started on the long trek to Bethlehem.

* * *

WHEN FAITH CONQUERS

HERE we witness conquering faith—conquering faith in the hearts of Naomi and Ruth. And they come to Bethlehem. It was the harvest season, and Naomi directed Ruth to glean in the field of Boaz, a wealthy and generous-hearted citizen of Bethlehem. Faith in action! And the world loves the story of Ruth becoming the wife of Boaz, and thus the mother of Obed, the grandfather of David the king in the ancestral line of Jesus Christ, the King of kings.

And Naomi, through her conquering faith, held in her arms the little baby, Obed, and dreamed of God's unfolding purposes to bless the world.

In this unsurpassed romance we witness faith in adversity, faith in association, faith in conduct, faith in claim, faith in confidence, and faith in a glorious climax.

* * *

WHEN FAITH CONQUERS

LIFE is always ennobled when faith conquers. It is easy to imagine how history might have missed this beautiful love story, had not Naomi been a woman of conquering faith. She might have given up and over to her great sorrow and pined away in grief and defeat.

But Naomi followed the gleam. And her trust in God shed its gentle glow into the lonely heart of the Moabite widow, Ruth. Ruth clave unto Naomi. She could not do otherwise. "Truth is stranger than fiction."

And all history was enriched. It is ever so when faith conquers. Thus the poet states the case:

"God moves in mysterious ways,
His wonders to perform,
"He plants his footsteps on the sea,
And rides upon the storm."

Faith

I cannot conceive that God could make such a species as the human merely to live and die on this earth. If I did not believe in a future state, I should believe in no God.

—John Adams.

Where there is no faith, there can be no endeavor.

Believe In Life

To believe in immortality is one thing, but it is first needful to believe in life.—Stevenson.

What is the highest secret of victory and peace? To will what God wills, and strike a league with destiny.—W R Alger.

Michigan Mirror

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

CHARLEVOIX—This is the weird story of a man, an idea, and a Michigan island.

The man was Jesse James Strang, self-anointed prophet of a dissident Mormon sect.

The idea: God had chosen Strang to be king.

The island: Big Beaver, three hours from Charlevoix by mail boat, largest of all isles in Lake Michigan.

The time: Just 100 yeas ago—1848.

All these things were recalled by Michigan newspaper editors last week-end, as they met at Charlevoix for a traditional summer meeting under auspices of the Michigan Press Association.

Strang, the man of this story, was a superb opportunist. When the founder of Mormonism, Joseph Smith, was assassiated by a mob at Carthage, Illinois, Strang promptly produced a letter. The letter was said to have been written by Smith prior to his death, Smith named Strang as his successor.

The Mormon committee of 12 judged the letter to be a fraud. Strang then led his followers to a place near Burlington, Wisconsin, and there revealed the location of long last ancient Biblical records. By Strang's translation, a "mighty prophet" was to arrive. The conclusion was plain. Strang was their man.

Harrassed by disbelievers, Strang transfered his colony to Big Beaver island, then inhabited by a few sturdy, fighting Irish fishermen and some Indians. There on beautiful Paradise bay, across from Whiskey point, Strang founded the town of St. James. In July, 1849, he was crowned "king".

Next on the scene came an attractive school teacher, Elvira Field, from Eaton Rapids and Charlotte. In Wisconsin, Strang had denounced polgamy. He changed his mind when he beheld Elvira. She became his second wife, posing as his secretary. When tongues wagged, Strang revealed the divine blessing of polygamy. He then took on three other wives: Betsy McNutt and Sarah and Phoebe Wright. They all slept under the same roof.

Strang became a leader in the Michigan state legislature. The kingdom of St. James grew to number 2,608 inhabitants by 1854 census.

The Mormon kingdom came to a tragic ending in June, 1856. Strang was fatally wounded by two of his own followers in the presence of the captain of the U. S. Michigan, a government boat. Irish fishermen from Mackinac and St. Helena joined those at Big Beaver. Together they drove the Mormons from their island haven.

Today, the sole remaining landmark of this colorful epoch at St. James is the Old Mormon Printing House, erected in 1850. There the first daily newspaper north of Grand Rapids was printed on April 1, 1856. The final issue of the "Northern Islander" recorded the story of Stang's assassination.

The Old Mormon Printing House is now marked by a historical plaque sponsored by the Michigan Press Association and the Michigan Historical Commission. The dedication ceremony took place Sunday, June 27, at the quiet village of St. James.

"Gene" Black, Michigan's scrapping attorney general, has become the "Peck's bad boy" of the Kim Sigler administration.

The man whom Sigler insisted was a "must" for his cabinet is now his No. 1 prickly thorn.

Because the Republican delegation at the Republican national convention stuck to Vandenberg in the second ballot, hoping to elevate Michigan's national statesman from the United States Senate to the White House, Black is now assailing Sigler for Michigan's "most distasteful political position".

Black says he has been a Dewey booster for years. Recently he sounded a call for a "new and resolute Republican candidate for Governor to oppose Governor Sigler'.

The Port Huron attorney, who commutes daily between the state capital and his home in Port Huron, has not indicated whom he would favor for Republican leadership.

Lieut. Governor Eugene C. Keyes, in the meanwhile, is circulating petitions for both governor and lieutenant governor. He says he won't make up his mind until the July 20 deadline for nominating petitions.

State Treasurer D. Hale Brake of Stanton is unhappy over the Philadelphia outcome. He also differed recently with Governor Sigler over the proposed constitutional reforms. Asked about his intentions of running for governor, Brake told a Lansing newspaper reporter: "I have no intention of running. But I wouldn't tie myself up with any flat prediction about being, or not being, a candidate for any office at this time".

To all these rumors Governor Sigler is unperturbed.

"The people elect the lieutenant governor," he said, following his return from Philadelphia. "If they elect Keyes I'll try to get along with him as well as any human being.

"My big problem is that a part of the Administration board wants to be governor and use every means to advance their own political ambitions."

Black, Keyes and Brake are members of the Administrative board.

Sigler said he thought Black should "spend more time helping to get things done than in popping off to anyone who will listen."

One thing is sure: "Gene" Black doesn't give a whoop what happens to him politically. He finds life at the capital very distasteful. Following the 1946 election, he sought to get an expense account for room and board at Lansing, maintaining that such was due him under an ancient statute. When Auditor General Murl Aten refused to honor the claim, he promptly began the daily trek via a state owned automobile from Port Huron and Lansing. His 1947 legel practice at Port Huron was lucrative.

He feuded with Lansing newspaper correspondents over release of public information and was spanked publicly by Governor Sigler.

He recently charged that Michigan automobile dealers were in cahoots with the state Republican command, contributing huge sums of money for the 1948 campaign. All of this has been irritating to the Republican state central committee and to Governor Sigler. It is quite unorthodox for the attorney general of a reform administration to hint boldly of finagling in high places. Black has done just that.

Governor Sigler told Associated Press managing editors at Higgins Lake that he refuses "to bring himself down" to the level of his feuding colleague, Mr. Black.

"Mr. Black is a fine fellow personally," said Sigler. "But he has a peculiar complex. He has swung in many directions.

"I do not feel the same way Black does. Should I criticize him publicly?"

Whether Sigler does or does not, "Gene" Black is very much in the news.

4-H CLUB news

FIRST 4-H CAMP FOR ANTRIM

Eighty-four 4-H Club members and leaders enjoyed the first 4-H Camp held in Antrim County. This event was held at Camp Hayo-Went-Ha which is located on Torch Lake. Some of the high-points of interest were Mrs. Mary Jane Emery's talk and colored slides on Conservation work in Michigan. Recreation was enjoyed throughout the week and Mrs. Buhland of Central Lake had charge of this program. Mrs. Dessie Farrell of Ellsworth took charge of the craftwork. One of the evenings were devoted to stunt and challenge night. The highlight of the entire program was the candle lighting service at which time a great many of the parents and friends of the members were present. Dr. Rogers gave the main address after which several people were initiated into the service club. Leaders were Mrs. Don Buhland, Central Lake; Mrs. Dessie Farrell, Ellsworth; Jim Williams, Bellaire and Mrs. Grace Mosher of Bellaire.

4-H Club Members were Lillian Bartholomew, East Jordan; Mavis Kratochvil, Alden; Richard Lamorcaux, Central Lake; Mary Jo Brake, Bellaire; June Bobbins, Mancelona and Tom Wieland of Ellsworth.

Included in the service were several appropriate trumpet selections played by John Severance.

One of the impressive parts of the ceremony was having all the service club mmbers and 4-H Club members light candles which were attached to paper plates and floated them out into the lake. After the candle lighting service all the members and guests were invited into the lodge where they enjoyed the motion pictures Robinson Crusoe.

While at Camp the campers received a telegram from Mr. Kirkpatrick wishing them well and a successful camp. Mr. Kirkpatrick is now touring Europe.

Fine meals were enjoyed through the week. Mrs. John Wieland and Mrs. A. Klooster of Ellsworth were the cooks during the week with Mrs. Koutnik helping out for a day.

"I see you raise hogs almost exclusively around here," said the visitor. "Do you find that they pay better than corn and potatoes?" The native replied: "Wal, no. But you see, stranger, hogs don't need no hoeing."

MODERN MILKHOUSE AIDS DAIRIES

The modern milkhouse shown here has been designed by James Boyd, agricultural engineer at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station. It has numerous features that make it an efficient work-center. These include: a ventilation system that halts moisture condensation and takes out odors; a sheltered porch; a removable casing on the door that will permit large equipment to be moved in and out; and adequate space for all milk cooling operations.

Single copies of plans for this milkhouse are available free by writing to the Farm Building Plan Service, Department of Agricultural Engineering, Michigan State College, East Lansing, Michigan. In quantity lots, a charge of ten cents per plan is made. Plans for a vestibule type milkhouse are also available.

QUICK TEST TELLS IF GRAIN IS DRY

Farmers who want to avoid loss from grain heating in storage can make this simple test devised by Dr. S. T. Dexter, farm crops research scientist at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station.

A small waxed cardboard container such as an individual ice cream cup is used in the test. A sample of grain, representing the average condition of the field, is placed in the container. To this is added about a half teaspoon of ammonium chloride salt which can be obtained from the druggist. The container is then closed and shaken vigorously 50 times.

Results of the test are shown in the two photographs above. At the left, the salt comes out of the tube dry and in single grains as it was when first put in. This shows that the grain is dry enough to store under ordinary farm conditions. The salt in the picture on the right is damp and clumped together, showing that the grain is too damp for storage. A little practice makes the test easy and quick. Then samples can be taken and the test performed in the field at harvest time.

Now more than ever before—

FIRST IN VALUE
FIRST IN DEMAND

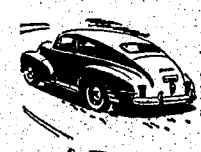

Only Chevrolet brings you all these major advantages of BIG-CAR QUALITY AT LOWEST PRICES . . . prices now decidedly lower than those of any other car that even remotely approaches it in quality!

You'll have so much more comfort with the genuine Unitized Knee-Action Ride—exclusive to Chevrolet and higher-priced cars.

You'll enjoy more thrills and more savings with Chevrolet's world's champion Valve-in-Head engine. Valve-in-Head, too, is exclusive to Chevrolet and higher-priced cars.

You'll know that your Chevrolet leads in tasteful luxury, for it has the world-famous Body by Fisher—available only on Chevrolet and costlier cars.

You'll have the safety of Fisher Unisteel Construction, the Knee-Action Ride and Positive-Action Hydraulic Brakes—combined only in Chevrolet and costlier cars.

The plain truth is that this pace-setting Chevrolet offers major quality advantage after major quality advantage not available in other cars in its field; and, in addition, Chevrolet prices are now obviously and outstandingly lower than those of any other car that even remotely approaches it in quality.

Thus, Chevrolet and only Chevrolet offers the Big-Car comfort of the original and outstanding Unitized Knee-Action Ride . . . the Big-Car performance and dependability of a world's champion Valve-in-Head engine . . . the Big-Car beauty and luxury of Body by Fisher . . . the Big-Car safety of Fisher Unisteel construction, the Unitized Knee-Action Ride and Positive-Action Hydraulic Brakes . . . all at lowest prices—prices that are now even more economical, even more thrifty, when compared with the prices of other automobiles in its field.

Yes, indeed, Chevrolet is first in dollar value by the widest margin in all Chevrolet history; and, of course, it is first in nation-wide demand as well.

Compare Values!... Compare Prices!...

CHEVROLET—and Only CHEVROLET—IS FIRST!

PRESERVE PEAS FOR WINTER USE NOW

Whether you plan to can or freeze peas this year, it's a cinch that you are going to preserve some of the popular green vegetable for your winter meals soon.

Directions for successful processing for either canning or freezing peas suggested by Roberta Hershey, extension foods specialist at Michigan State College.

If you plan to can some, after you have shelled and washed them, cover with boiling water and bring to a boil. If you use glass jars, pack the hot peas to one inch of the top and cover with boiling water, leaving one inch of space at the top of the jar. Add one-half teaspoon of salt to pints and one teaspoon to quarts. Adjust the jar lids and process in the pressure canner at 10 pounds pressure—240 degrees F. Process pint jars 40 minutes and quarts jars 40 minutes. As soon as you remove jars from the canner, complete the seals if they are not the self-sealing type. If you use a pressure sauce pan, procs the pint jars for 60 minutes.

For tin cans, pack the hot peas to one-fourth inch of the top. Fill to the top with boiling water. Add ½ teaspoon of salt to No. 2 cans and one teaspoon to No. 2½ cans. Exhaust and seal cans. Process at 10 pounds pressure—240 degrees F. Process for 30 minute for either size cans.

Horticulture specialist at Michigan State Colege recommend for freezing either the Thomas Laxton, World Record or Alderman varities. Avoid over-ripe pods. Handle quickly from time of harvest to freezing. After shelling, sort out small immature and large hard peas, split peas and foreign material.

Blanch peas for freezing 1½ minutes in steam. Cool quickly, drain, and pack.

WITH THE ANTRIM COUNTY AGR'L AGENT

W. Kirkpatrick, Extension Agent

COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT RETURNS FROM EUROPEAN TOUR

County Agricultural Agent, Walter G. Kirkpatrick, returned to Antrim County Wednesday evening, June 31 from a six weeks tour of England, France, Luxemborg, Belgium, the Netherlands, Occupied Germany and Denmark.

The Court House personnel was waiting in his home that evening to surprise him upon his arrival home. Anyone knowing "Kirk" realizes the difficulty in attempting to surprise him. Judging from the expression on his face one can say it was a very successful attempt. A Pot luck dinner was enjoyed by all and the evening was spent listening to a few highlights of his most enjoyable trip.

Mr. Kirkpatrick was selected to represent Northern Michigan on this American Agricultural Leaders tour of Europe to study economic conditions paying special atention to agriculture. He was sponsored by the Northern Michigan Planning Committee, various organizations, businesses and individuals. Every indication points to the fact that "Kirk" did more than a successful job on gathering information and taking 3500 feet of movies of these countries, their condition and various phases of agriculture. After organizing the material it will be presented to the group who made this trip possible.

Even with the work stacked up on his desk, notes of his trip to be assembled, lecture engagements in view, Kirk stated "It feels good to get back into the swing of work again."
